In this edition:

FACS Website
Sales Tax Holiday
Information Sharing

FACS Website. The Extension FACS website places research-based information at your fingertips and your clientele for the many facets of life, including food preservation, housing, financial management, and healthy eating habits. Point your browser to www.gafamilies.org.

Georgia to Offer Sales Tax Holiday for WaterSense Products
October 5-7 is a good time to commit to saving water in Georgia. That’s because purchases of WaterSense-labeled products will be exempt from state and local sales taxes. Find all the information at this link. 2012 Tax Holiday Handout

Information Sharing. Here are some links to publications you might find helpful to provide to your clientele. Remember FACS publications can be downloaded and/or printed and given to clientele. The publication website is: http://www.fcs.uga.edu/ext/pubs/

The Guide for New Parents
You've Got the Power: Living Will and Health Care Power of Attorney

Did you know ....

When children attend high-quality child care, their parents are more productive employees with fewer distractions and less absenteeism. As a result, the community benefits from a stronger workforce that contributes to the local economy. Extension Childcare provider education programs contribute to the public good by teaching skills and information essential to providing high-quality child care that prepares children for later school success.

Please let us know what information would be helpful to you in FACS NEWS.